

Global Leader In Affordable Resume Enhancement

How to write a Resume - Don't! Let me explain.

Should I write my resume?

Writing your own resume is not advised - unless you are a professional writer who can also honestly look at your own strengths and weaknesses objectively. While there are dozens of resume resources on the internet, the truth is that if you write your own resume, it is being prepared by an amateur (Sorry to be blunt, just being honest).

Think about it this way, does it make sense to spend three years and $30,000 to earn a University degree and then market that investment to employers with a amateur resume? Why would you let this amateur resume represent you and risk all that hard work you put in at University.

Think of a company like Sony. The executives who work for Sony know that their products are seen to be better than anyone else. Yet Sony uses a professional advertising agency to create the messages that are designed to sell us on buying a Sony Product.

Why a hire a Professional Resume Writer?

It's really simple, do you want the best chance of getting a job! How important is getting a job?

Hiring a resume writer serves the same purpose in selling you to a employer as Sony's advertising agency in selling their products to consumers. By hiring a resume writer you're getting the benefit of an expert who writes resumes every day and who knows how to market and present your credentials/skills to the best advantage.

A professional resume writer knows that there is not set format and treat each resume for the jobs the client is trying to obtain.

A resume writer is also an objective third party with the expertise to draw out relevant information from your work history, highlight your achievements and provide strategies for overcoming any difficult or negative aspects in your job search.
